8. Different roles, rights and responsibilities

Moderator (Technical Assistant)

Each session is led and moderated by a chair. The chair is supported by a technical assistant who ensures a smooth technical process in the background and manages all access rights. They also start (30 minutes before schedule) and finish the session and select the active speaker.

Chair

The chair is responsible for the moderation of the session. They welcome the participants, briefly introduce the speakers and give the floor to the presenters. They also lead the discussion and select the questions. The chair is also responsible for keeping the time and to the schedule. Chairs have audio and video rights and are asked to join the virtual room 25 minutes ahead of schedule.

Speaker

Speakers will be directly invited to their session via email and are asked to access the session by using the appropriate link, which they received via email from EASM Festival 2021 (Eureka). Speakers are asked to join the virtual room 25 minutes ahead of sheadule to allow time for a final test. Spakers have audio and video rights and can share their screen or upload their slides as a PDF (PDF is reccomende). Shortly before they start their presentation, the technical assistant (moderator) will select the speaker (only one) so they can be seen by the audience. If speakers attend any other session, they have the same rights as attendees.

Attendee (Conference delegate)

Conference delegates have no audio and video rights by default but can engage via the chat and QA function.

Speaking at a Parallel Session

It is your responsibility as the speaker to adhere to the presentation guidelines. There will be three presentations per session which each should last approximately 12 minutes. The chair of your session might give you a 2-Minute verbal warning before the time is up to ensure your keeping in line with the schedule. After the presentations there 5-6 Minutes for Questions and approximately 2 minutes for a handover between the speakers.

9. Round Tables

Participation in any round table events is restricted to 15 participants per session.

There is no opportunity to pre-register for the round tables and places will be allocated on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Should a round table session be up to full capacity you will not be able to join the discussion on this occasion.

Please note that you will be able and are encouraged to turn on your camera and microphone in round table sessions to actively engage in the conversation.

Depending on demand EASM will run popular round tables at each event to give different participants the opportunity to make use of them.

10. Time Zone

Please note that all times in the festival program published on the easm2021 website refer to the Central European Summer Time (CEST) zone (Berlin, Brussels, etc.). On the web-app times might be displayed in your local timezone, so please make sure you are reading the programme accurately.
